Celebrating 90 Years of Rugged Innovation

Brothers F.M. and William Brooks took a chance during the Great Depression to move their families to Nelsonville, Ohio. There they founded Rocky as the William Brooks Shoe Co. in a rent-free building using lent equipment.

The brothers grew the business, until F.M. left Nelsoville in 1946. His son, John, remained there to raise a family and continue working the family business. However, by the late 1950's, William sold the business to the Irving Drew Shoe Co. of Lancaster, Ohio.

Although, disappointed over the sale of the business, John continued to work for the company under the new owners. Business continued as usual until the manufacturing industry languished across the US in the 1960's. Production facilities closed and eventually the former William Brooks Shoe Co. became outdated leaving Irving Drew looking to sell or shutter the factory in 1975.

Jumping at the opportunity to buy the family business back, John Brooks and his son, Mike, began rejuvenating the company. In 1979, the company was reborn with a rugged, outdoorsy name as the Rocky brand known today.

With the return of Mike from his Milwaukee tannery job, John entrusted the helm of the company to his son. Under Mike's leadership the company continued to grow throughout the 1980's. Following a successful SHOT show in 1984, Rocky shifted focus and expanded their hunting footwear offerings. Soon, Rocky products were selling in stores across the country.

Now, a fourth generation company under Mike's son, Jason, Rocky remains headquarted in Nelsonville, Ohio. Rocky continues to be a world leader in innovative, durable, and premium quality footwear.

90 YEAR ANNIVERSARY

For 90 years, we've been building the world's most advanced military and service footwear for those serving our country and their communities. This is the tradition we've built for generations, and will continue to build for generations to come.

A HISTORY OF SERVICE

John Brooks (center front) participating in a parade of Nelsonville WWII veterans.

Brothers F.M. and William Brooks took a leap of faith during the Great Depression and moved their families to start a shoe factory in Nelsonville, Ohio. The duo set up shop in a rent-free building with lent equipment, and the William Brooks Shoe Co. was born, now known as Rocky Brands, Inc. In 1937, Mike's son and future CEO, John W. Brooks, joined the family business, but was soon called upon to answer the call of duty and served four years in the U.S. Army during World War II.

Due to rubber shortages during WWII and high demand of footwear, John directly asked his father for a pair or Rocky's high quality combat boots. Mike attempted to send several pairs to him, but they never seemed to reach their destination. With some innovative problem solving, Mike finaly saw John get his full pair when he sent the right boot followed by the left boot a week later.

This began Rocky's 90 year legacy of providing superior footwear to the armed forces and rugged innovation. Today, Rocky proudly continues to employ active-duty and retired service members, partner with various organizations to give back to the military community, and provide the military with top of the line combat and training boots.

EARHART TAKES FLIGHT

Lifting off from Newfoundland, Canada, on May 20, 1932, Amelia Earhart became the first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic. Earhart has demonstrated that anyone can pave their own path in the field of aviation.

Taking a note from Earhart and her leap for aviation, Rocky has launched five flight certified boots for both the United States Army and Air Force over the years. With insulated and soft toe options, stay mission ready in these safe to fly styles.

WANTED FOR ROBBERY BONNIE & CLYDE STRIKE AGAIN

Clyde Barrow was paroled in February 1932 and rejoined his amor, Bonnie Parker, before resuming their life of crime. Having become well known outlaws for their numerous robberies across the Central United States, the two continue to be a thorn in the side of law enforcement.

Slip into a pair of Rocky boots and join the search for these two. Whether you prefer a traditional look or want something lightweight, Rocky has the perfect boot to help you keep up with these running outlaws. Step up to the next level in Rocky Code Blue.

"BONUS ARMY" MAKES THEIR STAND

On July 28, 1932, the Bonus Expeditionary Force also known as the "Bonus Army" gathered in the nation's capital to make their presence known to Congress. Their efforts led to the dedicated support of our nation's military personnel and Rocky proudly continues to provide support through quality military footwear.

Offering various styles for any mission, including safety toe and insulated footwear options, Rocky has the right boot for soldiers of all service branches.
